GLOSSARY OF TERMS

The four drivers of Indiana's Tourism Economy can be defined in the following ways:

Ag and Culinary Tourism – A Form of farm and food direct marketing. Ag and culinary tourism attractions include farms, orchards, wineries, ranches, growing regions, u-pick locations, mills, fruit stands, farmers markets, local restaurants, signature foods, ag-based B&B's, etc.

Arts and Cultural Tourism – The art, architecture, and traditions that shape the identity and way of life of an area. Examples of arts and cultural tourism attractions include performing arts ensembles, museums, performing arts venues, festivals, fairs, public art, visual artists, craft artisans, food artisans, cultural districts, and artist colonies/collectives.

Heritage Tourism – Heritage tourism is characterized by the people, places, and activities that represent the past. Heritage tourism is defined by historical events, buildings, monuments, pathways, artifacts, birth places, burial places, and genealogical resources.

Outdoor Recreation and Sport Tourism – Outdoor Recreation Tourism is driven by access to outdoor activities and abundant natural resources such as parks, forests, waterways, bodies of water, and land masses. Sport Tourism is defined by participation and/or viewing of competitive, recreational and leisure sport activities (youth, amateur, and professional). Teams, venues, museums, monuments, and events are all drivers of sport tourism activity.

The following pages are broken up into the four abovementioned categories, followed by each county's specific tourism destinations.
